HISTORICAL COCKTAIL

Americano

890

Campari, vermouth, soda water

A truly classic cocktail, the Americano was first served in the 1860s at Gaspare Campari's bar in Milan, Italy. It was originally named "Milano-Torino" because of the origins of its two primary ingredients: Campari calls Milan home and sweet vermouth is also known as 'Vermouth di Torino' or Italian vermouth.

Negroni

890

Gin, vermouth, Campari

It is widely believed that the Negroni was created and named for Count Camillo Negroni in the 1920s. The story goes that the drink was invented when he ordered an Americano with gin at Cafe Casoni in Florence, Italy.

Daiquiri

890

White rum, lime juice, simple syrup

The Daiquiri is thought to have been developed in the late 1800s in Cuba. It was either created as a medicinal treatment or in a "there's no whiskey or gin around here...time to doctor up the local rum" type of scenario. As is often the case with cocktails, we do not know for sure which is the truth and it is likely that both renditions have some element of the truth. Probably the most famous daiquiri lover was Ernest Hemingway. He also happens to have a variation named after him.

Manhattan

890

Rye Whisky, red vermouth, angostura

The original Manhattan was made with rye whisky. However, there was a period of time in the 1900s when rye was not readily available or as high quality as the Manhattan requires. During these decades, it became common practice to use a Canadian whiskey. When bourbon began to reclaim headlines in the last decades of the 20th century, that became a popular choice and was the newly preferred whiskey for a Manhattan.

White lady

890

Gin, triple sec, lemon juice

The White Lady was originally created by famous bartender Harry McElhone while he was working at London's Ciro Club in 1919. At that time, he used equal parts of white crème de menthe, triple sec and lemon juice. It was not until he had his own Harry's New York Bar in Paris, which he bought in 1923, that he adapted the recipe by swapping the crème de menthe with gin, still using equal parts.

CIGAR SELECTION

Gurkha Cellar Reserve 21Y Solara

3500

Gurkha Cigar Company has introduced its fifth installment in the Cellar Reserve line, the Gurkha Cellar Reserve 21 Year. This limited production cigar utilizes 21 Year-old aged Dominican and Nicaraguan binder and filler tobaccos. This cigar is wrapped in a Connecticut Shade leaf, marking the first Connecticut Shade offering in the Cellar Reserve line. The cigars are smooth & creamy with a nutty flavor profile, a very balance and elegant cigar with a clean finish.

Gurkha Ghost Shadow

2500

The cigar is comprised of a Brazilian Arapiraca maduro wrapper with Nicaraguan and Dominican fillers held together with a Criollo 98' binder. The Gurkha Ghost cigars are a medium bodied smoke with flavors of dark chocolate, Sweet spice Cinnamon and earthy undertones.

Gurkha Cellar Reserve 15Y Robusto

2500

The vintage Cellar Reserve uses the finest quality 15 year-old aged tobacco, comprised of an oily Criollo 1998 wrapper, that combines an aged Dominican, Olor binder with a 15-year old Dominican filler. The flavors in this complex smoke are second to none. Pre light aromas include a subtle peppery spice that have hints of cedar and earth tones. As soon as you light up a Gurkha Cellar Reserve the flavors just keep coming. Citrus begins to fill the palate until smooth warm notes of chocolate and nuts take over. The blend is undeniably unique and flavorful from start to finish. It's a stick worthy of a good glass of scotch and a sunset to make your day complete.

Cuesta Rey Pyramid no 9 Natura

2900

Made by the JC Newman Cigar Company, the Cuesta Rey Centenario Collection uses only the finest aged long filler tobaccos which are skillfully blended with Dominican Binder tobacco. This "bunch" is then hand-rolled with either Connecticut Shade "natural" or Connecticut Broadleaf Sun Grown dark "maduro" wrapper tobaccos. These "Vintage" wrapper tobaccos are aged for an average of five years before they are sorted for their color, texture, and overall quality. Only the finest wrappers survive this painstaking grading process. Cuesta Rey was originally made in Cuba, and the Centenario celebrates the cigar's rich history which spans over a century.

Diamond Crown Maximus DBL Robusto no 6

3900

Diamond Crown Maximus is a rich, sweet cigar from JC Newman Cigar Co. The cigar is made by the Fuente family with an Ecuador wrapper and Dominican filler and binder. Diamond Crown Maximus Double Corona Robusto is a great smoke with notes of leather, spice, and coffee.

Cuesta Rey Centenario Cigars

900

Cuesta Rey Centenario Cigars are hand-made in the Dominican Republic under the careful supervision of Carlos Fuente Jr. Like all Fuente made cigars, the draw of a Cuesta Rey is free and easy, and the overall construction is magnificent. The golden brown, natural Connecticut shade grown wrapper has a light and mellow taste.
